DEPARTMENT OF ECE

Awareness Program on “Women Equality”

The ECE department of Narayana Engineering College, Nellore organized an awareness program titled “WOMEN EQUALITY” on 27-8-18.

Mrs. A Prashanthi was the chief guest to the program. In her address to the students, she said that, nowadays women have equal participation in every sector and are walking in par with men with dignity however; their security is a matter of great concern. She laid emphasis on the importance of self defense. She said self defense would help women tackle an unusual situation independently. She also interacted with the students and answered their queries and gave them solutions to overcome their day to day problems which they face as girls. It was a very fruitful session for the students and they participated in the program with great enthusiasm.
